The full Council Tax bill assumes that there are two or more adults residing in a dwelling. However, for Council Tax purposes, certain people will not be counted when looking at the number of adults in residence.

Below are answers to some questions about who should be disregarded, under this category, for the purpose of assessing Council Tax discount.

How is 'severely mentally impaired' defined?

For the purposes of the Local Government Finance Act 1992, a person is severely mentally impaired if he/she has a severe impairment of intelligence and social functioning (however caused) which appears to be permanent in the opinion of their doctor.

What does this mean in practical terms?

A person will be disregarded on the grounds of being severely mentally impaired if they meet the criteria and are entitled to one of the following benefits:

- * Incapacity Benefit (IB) (either long-term IB, short-term IB or long term IB for widows and widowers)
- * Attendance Allowance (AA)
- * Severe Disablement Allowance (SDA)
- * the highest or middle rate care component of disability living allowance (DLA)
- * an increase in disablement pension for constant attendance
- * disabled person's tax credit, but only if this is because of the prior receipt of IB or SDA or from 1 April 1997
- * income support which includes a disability premium paid because of the claimant's incapacity to work
- * unemployability supplement (this was abolished in 1987 but existing claimants remain entitled)
- * constant attendance allowance payable under the industrial injuries or war pension schemes
- * unemployability allowance payable under the industrial injuries or war pension schemes
- * from 1 April 1994, income support which includes a disability premium because of the claimant's incapacity to work.
- * Employment and Support Allowance - Support Group (ESA + SG)
- * Personal Independence Payments (PIP)
- * Armed Forces Independence Payments (AFIP)
- * Universal Credit, where the calculation includes an element for limited capability for work, or limited capability for work and work-related activity

Notes - from 1 April 1996 a person who would have been entitled to one of the above benefits, except for the fact that she/he has reached pensionable age, still qualifies for the discount.

From 8 January 1997, a person also qualifies if she/he is the partner of a person in receipt of income-based jobseeker's allowance which includes a disability premium of higher pensioner premium because:

- * she/he gets IB long-term rate
- * was either in receipt of long-term IB up to pensionable age and is still alive, or is entitled to AA/DLA but has been in hospital for more than 28 days.

How do I apply?

Complete the form overleaf it and return it to your doctor, who should complete it without delay, and return it to the address shown. Once it has been assessed you will be notified of the Council's decision.

For how long will the discount be allowed?

For as long as there are fewer than two adults in the property who are not disregarded. If there is any change in circumstances then you must notify us at the address shown overleaf. Failure to do so may result in a penalty being imposed.
